

YOU ARE INVITED TO THE 2017

The Sonoma State University Mathematics Department is organizing an Undergraduate Mathematics Conference on Saturday, March 25, 2017. Undergraduate mathematics students from all years of study are invited to:

- give 15-minute presentations about interesting mathematics projects they have been working on,
- attend talks by other students and learn about fascinating math topics that are accessible to undergraduates,
- meet students and faculty from many northern California colleges and universities,
- attend two keynote addresses tailored for an undergraduate audience:
  - “Inclusion and Exclusion in the Math Community” by Francis Su, and
  - “Crows, taxicabs, and Minkowski geometry” by Cornelia Van Cott.

Registration for the conference is free and we will provide morning refreshments and lunch. Please check the webpage below for information on how to register and sign up as a presenter.

To register for the conference, please fill out and submit the on-line registration form at our webpage: bit.ly/2kamTSG.

The registration deadline for speakers is March 13, 2017. More information about the conference can also be found at the webpage.

We hope to see you in March!
