ABSTRACT

The abstract should be in the form of a brief and concise statement of the main results or points of view of the paper, without demonstrations and with a minimum of formulae. It should not exceed 100 words and should be compressed if possible into a single paragraph. It should be written in the third person. The abstract should be typewritten and in a form suitable for immediate publication in the MONTHLY.

Some ideas based on the author's experience in teaching algebra were presented and included proper use of the overhead projector, selection of course content, pace of presentation, frequency of tests, and balance between theory and problems. A student's view of courses in abstract and linear algebra was presented by Mary Ann Miller of Marycrest College.
