Dear Dr. Tweeten:

Last year there was an award for the outstanding Mathematics teacher in the state of Iowa and there was not enough publicity to elicit many recommendations for this award. It would seem to me that if the award were to be given next year, we should begin to think of some publicity concerning it in order to have more competitors.

Would you inform me if the award is to be given and if so, do you have any ideas for publicizing same?

Yours truly,
