To Whom It May Concern:

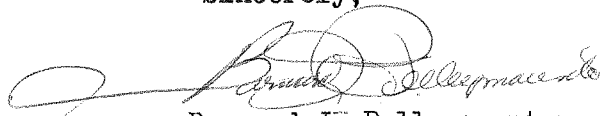

Mr. Kolsrud is an outstanding young educator, in that he is very knowledgeable in his subject field, dedicated to the teaching profession, has a great deal of interest in young people, and has magnificent rapport with them. He spends many hours before and after school helping those that have difficulty, and also those that can and want to advance faster than the majority of the students in his classes. Last summer he gave two hours per day of his own time for a period of six weeks with post graduate students who were enrolled in college for the Fall semester.

Mr. Kolsrud is constantly striving and looking for new techniques and ways of improving himself. After receiving his Masters Degree, we asked him to teach the Illinois Math Series by Beverman and Vaughn. He agreed and then asked if he could spend his summer at the University of Illinois to study under the author. This is the type of person I like to have teaching my son.

Mr. Kolsrud is a member and active in his local, state, and national professional organizations, being president of our local teachers organization at the present time. He is interested in community organizations, and very active in church affairs.

It gives me a great deal of pleasure to nominate Mr. Kolsrud for this coveted award.

Sincerely,

Bernard J. Pellemounter
Superintendent
