You are invited to submit an abstract for the Thirty-Second Annual Eastern Kentucky University Symposium in Mathematics and Statistics at Eastern Kentucky University. Presentations are being sought in all areas of mathematics and statistics.

Guidelines for Presentations:

Presentations may be either original or expository in nature, but should be understandable to advanced undergraduate students and contain information not normally found in the undergraduate curriculum. Presentations can be by either undergraduate or graduate students. In addition, a limited number of faculty talks may be accepted. The presentations should be planned for no more than twenty minutes.

Information on Submission:

The following information must be submitted by Friday, April 19, 2019. A complete program will be distributed within a short time after this date.

- Title of the presentation
- Whether presenter is an undergraduate, a graduate student or a faculty member
- Abstract
- Name of authors
- Name of presenters
- Affiliation

Please submit all information to Jeff Neugebauer at jeffrey.neugebauer@eku.edu.

Important Dates:

- Deadline for abstract submission: Friday, April 19, 2019
